

Are you moving livestock across state lines? Do you know the requirements?

Come join us to find out more information!

What? A meeting about animal disease traceability (ADT) and how it relates to moving animals from 1 state to another.

Where? OSU Extension Office, Fulton County, located at the Robert Fulton Agriculture Center, 8770 State Route 108, Wauseon, OH 43567 (419-337-9210)

When? November 19, 2013 at 6:30pm

Who should attend? Anyone that transports livestock across state lines, or has their own livestock! Also includes veterinarians and their staff, OSU extension personnel, licensed livestock dealers, haulers or others interested in learning about the new Animal Disease Traceability rule. This is open to the public. Representatives from the Ohio Department of Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture will be available.

