Welcome from Young Agricultural Professionals Committee Chairs

Brandi and Wes Montgomery

2018-2019 Ohio Young Agricultural Professionals State Committee

We are pleased to provide this Local Young Agricultural Professionals Manual. We are excited for your interest (new or continuing) in our Young Agricultural Professionals (YAP) program. We welcome farmers, teachers, foodies, agriculture service and sales professionals, and anyone who is passionate about agriculture. Whether farming is your full-time occupation or you are one of agriculture's biggest fans, we welcome you to join us in telling agriculture's story. Ohio Farm Bureau offers great opportunities for young members to build leadership, develop personally and professionally, network, and present a positive face of agriculture to the public. State events such as Ag Day at the Capital, Winter Leadership Experience and national events like the American Farm Bureau YF&R Conference are great ways for you to get involved and become engaged. As you grow toward your potential, we hope you will consider participating in the Excellence in Agriculture, Outstanding Young Farmer and Discussion Meet contests. You can also have an impact locally! We challenge you to increase your involvement and find new ways to share your story and passion for agriculture. We invite you to participate in any or all aspects of the program. On behalf of the rest of the committee members, thank you for being involved! It is our pleasure to serve such a great group of young agriculturalists.

Sincerely,

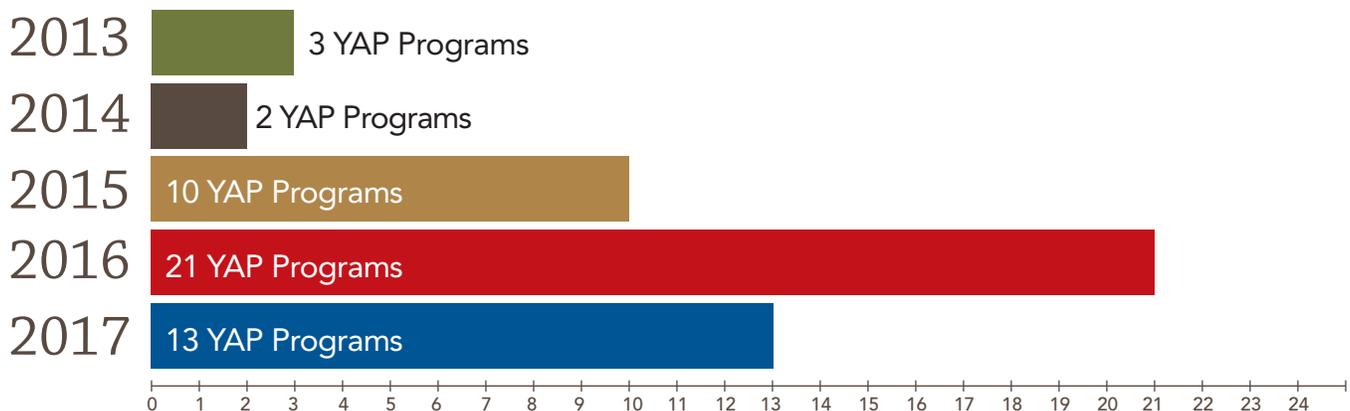

Wes and Brandi Montgomery
 Committee chairs
 Ohio Farm Bureau Young Agricultural Professionals

Purpose of This Manual

The Local YAP Manual was created as a result of substantial growth and interest of Young Agricultural Professionals across the state. With this growth, there have been many questions regarding ways to start a YAP program, how to get support for your YAP program, and recruiting techniques. Our hope is this manual can meet the demand of the growing YAP programs. Throughout the manual, you will find information about what is happening at the state and local levels for Young Agricultural Professionals. Ohio Farm Bureau offers numerous opportunities and experiences for individuals like yourself. Please keep in mind, as you read this manual, there is no correct way of starting a YAP Program. Use your local resources, talents, and abilities to reference the information on the following pages to create or continue a program that reflects the uniqueness of your county's Young Agricultural Professionals. You are our future in the agricultural industry; keep up the great work!

From our survey results, these are the number of local YAP Programs created over the last five years:

State Calendar of Events for State YAP Programming

- Enhance participation in YAP contests by increasing the number of applications for the Excellence in Ag, Outstanding Young Farmer and Discussion Meet.
- Enhance YAP contest prize packages for winners and finalists.
- Develop a list serve of county YAP leaders.
- Construct and distribute a Local YAP manual and resource guide.
- Strengthen donations to the Harvest for All T-Shirt sales by $500.
- Encourage every local YAP group to host a Harvest for All food drive or fundraiser.

Overview of Programming

2017-2018 Ohio Young Agricultural Professionals State Committee

YAP State Committee

A total of eight positions are on the committee, and a position may be filled by either a single individual or a married couple. Members serve a two-year term with four returning and four new positions each year. The committee serves an important role in Ohio Farm Bureau: involving, encouraging and mentoring other Young Agricultural Professionals for positions of responsibility in the county, state and national Farm Bureaus. The committee also serves in integral role in the development and planning of Ohio Farm Bureau's YAP programs.

SPECIFIC RESPONSIBILITIES INCLUDE:

- Providing input in the planning and conducting of all Ohio Farm Bureau YAP programs.
- Assisting county leaders in recruiting participants for Ohio Farm Bureau activities and YAP events and contests.
- Having a strong commitment to involving Young Agricultural Professionals locally in county Farm Bureau activities.
- Being actively involved in county Farm Bureau programs.
- Working cooperatively to promote and recruit for YAP contests (Discussion Meet, Outstanding Young Farmer and Excellence in Agriculture), the YAP Winter Leadership Experience, and other programs directed toward Young Agricultural Professionals.
- Serving as a resource to county Farm Bureaus for Young Agricultural Professionals involvement.
- Being involved in activities and training events for which the committee is responsible.
- Actively hosting Young Agricultural Professionals participants at Ohio Farm Bureau YAP events.
- Using the leadership position to encourage and mentor newly involved Young Agricultural Professionals to become more involved in the organization.

Winter Leadership Experience

The Leadership Experience is an annual conference with the opportunity to build personal and professional skills, network with agricultural leaders, and learn to make a difference in your community, Farm Bureau and agriculture. Conference sessions cover topics ranging from traditional agriculture, niche farming/marketing, and consumer education topics. The conference takes place in late January or early February every year.

2017 YAP Winter Leadership Experience

Washington, D.C. Leadership Experience

Young professionals with strong leadership potential are hand-selected each year to share their ideas with members of Congress and to learn about international agriculture and how to grow personally and professionally. The trip takes place in September each year and includes a visit with the young professionals' congressional representative, meeting with American Farm Bureau staff members for industry and issues updates, a behind-the-scenes look at how Washington really works, networking with other young professionals, and exploring a world view of agriculture during a visit to an embassy. Contact your county Farm Bureau to express interest in this annual trip.

Washington, D.C. Leadership Experience

American Farm Bureau Young Farmers and Ranchers National Conference

The AFBF YF&R Leadership Conference focuses on leadership and personal development opportunities for Farm Bureau Young Farmers & Ranchers. This highly interactive conference brings together Young Farmers & Ranchers from at least 45 states and has been noted to total nearly 900 Young Farmers & Ranchers. The Leadership Conference offers motivational speakers, mini-sessions, awards and recognition, fun, networking and entertainment. Ohio Farm Bureau selects 10 YAP members via an application process to attend American Farm Bureau's YF&R Conference to enhance their knowledge of and experience with Farm Bureau.

YAP Contests

Outstanding Young Farmer

2017 Winner: Christian Hoffman, Fairfield County

The Outstanding Young Farmer contest is designed to recognize successful young farmers, age 35 or younger, for achievements in the business of farming and leadership in the agricultural community. Applicants should have a majority of their income subject to normal production risks as well as ownership (or part ownership) of the operation/business. The top three applicants will have a 20 minute interview with a panel of three judges in August. The winner is recognized at the Ohio Farm Bureau annual meeting in December and receives an expense-paid trip to compete in the national contest, among other prizes. Applications are due mid-July.

Excellence in Agriculture

If you work off the farm and are a leader in Farm Bureau and the community, then this contest is for you. This award is designed to recognize successful young agricultural professionals (singles or couples) who are actively contributing and growing through their involvement with Farm Bureau and agriculture but do not have the majority of his or her income subject to normal production risk. The top three applicants will have a 25 minute presentation before a panel of judges. The statewide winner will be recognized at the Ohio Farm Bureau annual meeting in December and receives an expense-paid trip to compete in the national contest, among other prizes. Applications are due mid-July.

2017 Winner: Greg and Rose Hartschuh, Wyandot County

Discussion Meet

2017 Winner: Danielle Burch, Columbiana County

If you are a good conversationalist, then consider this contest. The Discussion Meet is a competitive event designed to simulate a committee meeting where discussion and active participation are expected from each participant. This competition is evaluated on an exchange of ideas and information on a pre-determined topic. Participants build basic discussion skills, develop a keen understanding of important agricultural issues and explore how groups can pool knowledge to reach consensus and solve problems. The statewide winner receives an expense-paid trip to compete in the national contest, among other prizes. Semifinals are held at the Ohio Farm Bureau annual meeting in December and finals are held at the YAP Winter Leadership Experience. Applications are available in the fall.

Local YAP Survey

The following survey can be used to collect general information from YAP participants. This resource is great for both interested and active YAP groups. It can be used to receive input and ideas as you set out to establish your YAP group or to brainstorm programming as you look for new and different ways for your established YAP program to get more involved.

YOU CAN FIND THIS COMPLETE SURVEY AT THE END OF THIS MANUAL.

Steps for Starting a Local YAP Group

Want to start a YAP group in your county, but do not know where to begin? Take a look at these suggestions. Do not be afraid to add your own approach as you set out to create your county's YAP program.

- 1 Must have the interest of one or more young farmers in the county.
- 2 Have support of your County Farm Bureau Board.
 - Talk to your County Organization Director, County Farm Bureau Board, and County Extension Agent about your thoughts and goals for a YAP group in your county.
- 3 Develop a list of all prospective Young Agricultural Professionals in your county.
 - Use Farm Bureau member list
 - Past Winter Leadership Experience and Washington Leadership Experience attendees
 - Graduating seniors with agriculture interest (i.e. FFA and 4-H)
 - Other farm organizations' lists.
- 4 Set date, time and place for an informative and organizational meeting.
- 5 Develop a core committee (4-6 people) to establish program and contact prospective members.
- 6 Send out follow-up information regarding the meeting time, date and location.
- 7 At the first planning meeting:
 - Invite your organization director or a State YAP Committee member to share about Farm Bureau's YAP program.
 - Establish YAP member to lead the meeting.
 - Determine the interest of the group in starting a YAP program.
 - Plan the agenda for the first local YAP meeting or gathering.
 - Set time, date and location for the next meeting.
 - Be organized!
- 8 Involve each member in a committee.
- 9 Once your local group is established, do not be afraid to get involved at the state level and with other county YAP groups.

SEE THE SAMPLE PLANNING MEETING AGENDA AT THE END OF THIS MANUAL.

Importance of Goal Setting

Taking the time to discuss and set goals for your YAP program can give you direction and motivation. Your goals do not have to be extensive but can help to keep you and your members on track to accomplishing great things. Make sure to go over your goals at each meeting/event and give a brief update about where you are at and what still needs to be done to accomplish your goal(s).

A helpful resource, when it comes to setting goals, is Zig Ziglar's 7 Steps to Setting and Achieving Goals, which goes as follows:

- 1 Identify your goal.
- 2 Identify the benefits from reaching your goal.
- 3 Identify the obstacles and mountains to climb to reach your goal.
- 4 Identify the skills/knowledge required.
- 5 Identify individuals and/or groups of people you need to work with.
- 6 Create a plan of action (the more details, the better)
- 7 Establish a completion date.

Example Goals

- Engage more YAP members in Farm Bureau events.
- Increase active involvement of YAP members.
- Identify a core group of individuals to help plan meetings/events.
- Create new YAP programming.

Overview of Current Local YAP Group Activities

What are other YAP programs doing across the state of Ohio? Below you will find the results from a survey sent to current/recently established YAP programs. Please remember there is no right way of starting a YAP program. Let your county's Young Agricultural Professionals' stories and passion for agriculture guide you as you set out on this journey.

Suggestions for Local YAP Programming

Please note these suggestions do not mean your county has to complete/follow these to be successful. They are just ideas to help your local YAP program.*

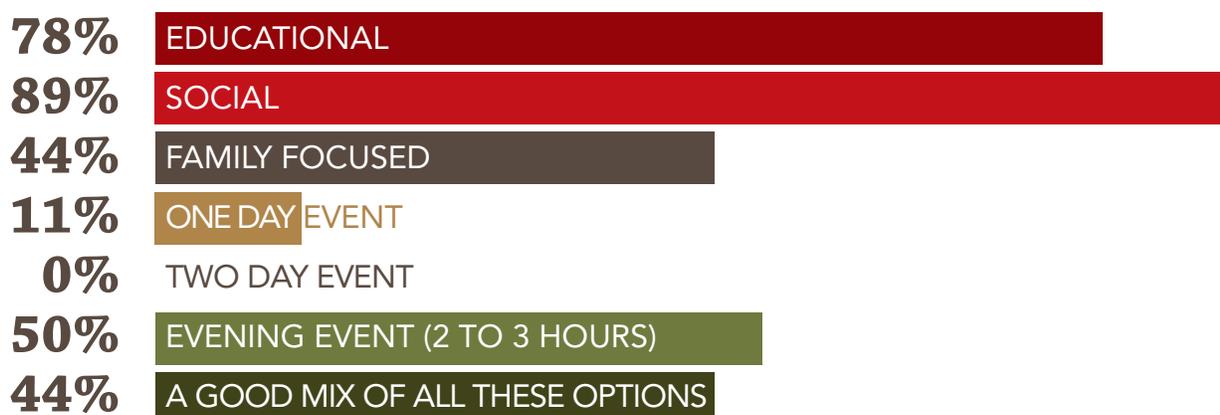

Ways to Build Your YAP Program

- Start small and develop a core team. You can reach out to a larger group of people once you are established.
- Communicate with your County Farm Bureau Board. Many counties have a budget for county YAP activities.
- Don't meet too many times, if at all, during the busy seasons. Trying to meet during spring planting or fall harvest can make your YAP program feel like a burden to the participants and may decrease people's interest in participating.

- Plan the year's tentative agenda at the beginning of the year to give you an outline of what you would like to accomplish.
- Find out what your group of individuals' interests and talents are (i.e., ag education, ag issues, informative, communication).
- Inform individuals of the State YAP Committee, programming, and contests that are available from the state Farm Bureau.
- Invite all Farm Bureau members under 35 to join. Even those who are not members might be interested in becoming a member and joining your YAP group.
- Work with other organizations and even other county's YAP groups. Many farm-related organizations know that we need young people in ag and are willing to sponsor you or support your group.
- Provide personal recognition and thank yous to your members and others who help your group.
- Lastly, don't be afraid to take the first steps. What you start now may develop into friendships that will last a lifetime and opportunities that would otherwise not be possible.

Types of Programming Current Local YAP Groups are Doing

Suggested Activities and Projects for Growing Your Local YAP Group

- Attend the YAP Winter Leadership Experience.
- If eligible, participate in Excellence in Ag, Outstanding Young Farmer and Discussion Meet contests.
- Assist or participate in Ag in the Classroom activities in your county schools.
- Write a news article for your local newspaper on YAP and Farm Bureau activities.
- Sponsor educational tours or farm visits to a few of your county farms for local groups or schools.
- Sponsor 4-H and FFA contests and events in the county (i.e. fundraising, cooking, recycling, etc.)
- Donate your time, as a group, to a local service project.
- Participate in county fairs and high school career days.
- Have fun! Plan or sponsor social activities for current and potential members.

Local Event Ideas

- Fantasy Sports League or March Madness Bracket Challenge
- Back to School Picnic
- Winter Bowling Tournament
- Fall Harvest Celebration - Pumpkin painting for kids, hayride, bonfire, dress up in Halloween costumes, and refreshments
- Ice Cream Social - While serving ice cream (possibly from a local dairy) you can also display information about how ice cream is made.
- Farm Safety Training - Sponsor a day/event for individuals to gain more knowledge on how to ensure safety on the farm.
- Barn Dance/Party
- Sweet Corn Outing - Plant a sweet corn patch and invite members and community members to socialize and enjoy it after it is harvested.
- Invite Couples to a Two-Day Leadership Retreat - Suggested break-out sessions could include professional development and community outreach.
- Tour a Local Brewery/Winery
- Dinner and Education Presentation - Host a panel discussion and/or a speaker regarding current ag topics.
- Baseball Outing - Invite the family to a local baseball game.

Recruiting/Participation

HOW DO YOU KEEP MEMBERS ENGAGED AND KEEP THEM COMING TO MEETINGS/EVENTS?

Many established YAP programs have a difficult time getting individuals interested and engaged in their YAP program.

HERE ARE SOME SUGGESTIONS TO OVERCOME THIS ISSUE:

- Have YAP members personally contact individuals (i.e. face-to-face, email, snail mail).
- Space out events. Too many events in a short period of time can overwhelm individuals.
- Engage through social media.
- Hold central events and invite multiple counties.
- Find out the interests of the group and offer events (educational and social) regarding those interests.
- Keep the meetings filled with useful content, good dialogue, and prizes.

How did you get YAP members to join?

“Persistence - don’t give up after first meeting.”

“Keep it casual and always ask yourself if it is an event that you would come to. If it is an invitation that you would get and most likely throw away, so will everyone else. Also, we have found that mailed invitations requesting RSVPs work better than any Facebook, email or text invitations.”

“Set regular meeting dates; time gets away.”

Personally ask people to join.

“Don’t over plan. You don’t want to have so many events that YAPs (and officers) feel overwhelmed.

“Invite everybody! Tell everybody about what you are doing, talking about it in front of one person can lead to finding another person interested in joining. Be organized and assign tasks to core members of the group. Also choose a meeting time and day and keep it that way. We meet the second Monday of every month and I send a reminder email out the week before.”

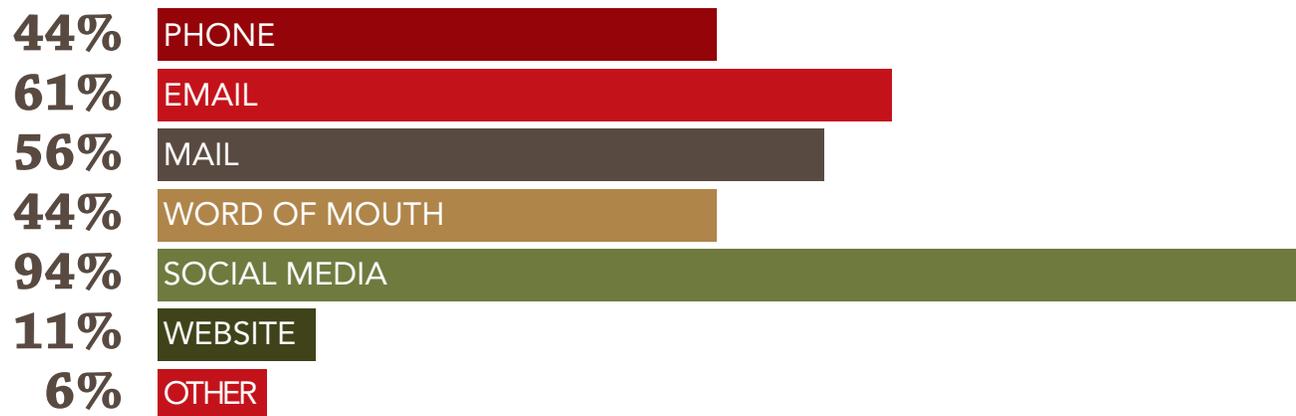

Three or four events throughout the spring and summer is enough to keep people engaged.”

Communication Methods

When it comes to communicating with current and future YAP members, personal invitation is the key to success. Many YAP groups have seen an increase in participation when they personally invite members (including nonmembers) to join them. Other ways to communicate with members is to send them invites in the mail, use social media, and send out email reminders.

FORMS OF COMMUNICATION WITH CURRENT LOCAL YAP GROUP MEMBERS

Communicating with Your County Board

Make sure your county board knows what your local YAP program is doing. Taking the time to invite them to your events/meetings will help promote your group and establish a working relationship as you support one another.

TIPS FOR COMMUNICATING WITH COUNTY BOARDS

- Send your minutes to the board to be shared at their meeting.
- Have a YAP member give a report or brief update at the board meetings.
- Have YAP members hold a position on the county board.
- Regular contact with your organization director.
- Invite county board members to your meetings/events.

Meeting Frequency

A majority of established YAP groups only meet two to six times a year. Starting out with a couple of events a year can help prevent not taking on too much at the beginning. Focusing on a few solid events instead of a lot of little events will hopefully help members not feel too overwhelmed. Being conscientious of busy times for farmers during the year is also a good thing to keep in mind.

REMEMBER: Young Agricultural Professionals is not an organization. It is a program which is an integral part of the Ohio Farm Bureau's organizational structure.

OFBF Resources

STATE YAP COMMITTEE - Members of the State YAP Committee serve as resource for local YAP groups. If you would like a State YAP Committee member to speak at your meeting, please contact Melinda Witten, Director of Young Ag Professionals, with your request at 614-519-8761 or mwitten@ofbf.org. You can also contact Melinda Witten with any questions or concerns and she will be happy to assist you with local YAP programming.

ORGANIZATION DIRECTORS - OFBF's organization directors are the best resource you have. They can connect you to other YAP members in your county. Please don't hesitate to reach out to them. They are also a key contact to keep the county board informed of the local YAP group activities.

EXPERIENCEYAP.COM - This is the official YAP website and is always current with new information about state programming and contest information.
