

Dear Neighbor,

Hello, my name is _____ and I live in the neighborhood at _____.

The reason I am contacting you is because I am interested in keeping our community and neighborhood as safe as possible. For the last 40 years, the Ohio Farm Bureau has offered a Property Protection Program which pays a reward to anyone providing information to law enforcement that leads to the arrest and conviction of persons committing property crimes against a Farm Bureau member's property.

This "neighborhood watch" type of program provides a great incentive for all of us who are vigilant and respectful of property. As my neighbor, if you observe any suspicious or out-of-the-ordinary activity on or around my property, please report it to local law enforcement immediately. Not only is your diligence greatly appreciated, but it could also entitle you to receive a $5,000 reward.

This program is a very popular benefit of the Ohio Farm Bureau and has been endorsed by the Buckeye State Sheriffs' Association and touted by other law enforcement agencies as well.

Finally, if you are not an Ohio Farm Bureau member but are interested in having property protection for your own property, buildings, equipment, assets, etc., please consider joining the Ohio Farm Bureau. For a small annual membership fee, you could have the peace of mind of this program as well.

For more information about the Ohio Farm Bureau or this program, contact the local Farm Bureau office at the following number _____ - _____ - _____, or join online at ofbf.org/join.
