Crossway Farms

Angie Frantom, Bekkah Snapp, Courtney Diltz

Join Crossway Farms' owner Angie with daughters Bekkah and Courtney to learn about the history of Crossway Farms as well as details about the new 2025 addition of "The Flower Garden"—a two acre cottage garden style u-cut flower field.

Crossway Farms began over 25 years ago with a booth at The Great Sidney Farmer's Market and is now a multi-season destination for families in Shelby County and beyond. They open in the spring with their greenhouse location, then move into the summer full of fresh fruits, veggies, homemade donuts, and fun events! The busiest time of year is their Fall on the Farm Festival in Sept. and Oct. where you can visit the u-pick pumpkin patch, Crossway Corral play zone, giant corn pit, or farm store.

Angie and her husband Jason both come from multi-generation Shelby Co. farm families and now, along with their children, are blessed with the opportunity to allow others to make lasting memories on the farm.
